Sept 7, 1918

Dear Mr Lansberg,

I am writing this while watching the unendible display that the House Assassination Committee is putting on in the name of investigation. I cannot aptly describe my grief at witnessing the servants elected by the American people to serve them kowtow & stoop to new lows of dislocation.

The reason I am writing to you is to tell you [redacted] I am amazed & glad that someone could have the courage to do what you have done (and, I assume, will still do), in the face of such powerful enemies. I know that you personally must be extremely dismayed if not taken aback at seeing your continued efforts to seek the truth fail again, and this time by the Congress of the United States. I felt that it was my duty to let you know that at least this young man appreciates what you have done. I have read all of your White Paper books and admire the in depth investigation it must have taken to write them. It is a disgrace that no publisher would see fit to publish them and a lasting tribute to your courage and perseverance that you published them yourself, at great expense in order to spread what is obviously important information for every citizen of the United States.

If you're wondering why I'm writing, I would basically just like to know your thoughts on the House Assassinations Committee "Investigation" and whether you plan to [redacted] make any more books on the subject.

I wrote to you a few years back and received a very kind letter from your wife in return saying that you were ill with "I believe, phlebitis." I trust that you have recovered and pray that you may be given the strength to substantiate your immense efforts in pursuit of the truth. You probably don't remember, but I also talked to you on the phone about 3 years ago and asked to meet you. At that time you said and I understood that you were too busy. I now make the same request of meeting you, at the risk of incurring your wrath. I sincerely would enjoy meeting someone whom I consider to be a great, and honest American with unusual amounts of courage. Please favor me with a reply and God bless you and yours.

Yours truly,

Donald J. [illegible]